This online workshop aims to present the project ACADIMIA and to get feedback from the participants on the relevance and the meaningfulness of the presented joint curriculum. To do that, the participants are required to analyze the documentation before the event. The participants will also have to choose which group of methods they want to follow. According to that, the workshop will be created. At the end of the workshop, the participants are required to answer questions related to the curriculum, and to give feedback about the workshop. A certificate of participation will be given if requested.
